

Keeping Current in Your Field

Mac-CARE and the Health Sciences Library
Faculty Development Education Series

Monday,
March 21st, 2022

12 PM – 1 PM | Zoom

About this workshop

The amount of health information out there is overwhelming. This session will provide learners with a number of strategies to remain current in their field of interest. Learn how to set up table of content alerts, saved searches, or how to follow entries. There are so many strategies available!

Learning Objectives

By the end of the session, you will be able to:

- Identify tools to stay current
- Explain why it is important to stay current
- Choose and set up a plan for keeping current
